No Credit given for bottles that are In the recent case where a tailor was dirty, or greasy, or that appear to have charged with cutting and wounding another that of containing Aerated Waters, as tailor, thereby crippling him for life, and was punished with three months' imprisonment, the fact of Mr Wodehouse's remarks in passing sentence not having been recorded has given rise to some misapprohension. His Worship informed the prisoner that he was not being sentenced for cutting and wounding, a crime which would have deserved very heavy punishment, but for having on another octasion threatened the complainant that if he continued to use a sewing machine he (defendant) would 'do for him,' The complainant, perated water forms a delicious beverage. while in hospital, identified the defendant The addition of Wines or Spirits produce as the man who assaulted him, but afterwards, in Court, awore that his assailant was another man, who had not been arrested. The original charge of cutting and wounding having thus fallen through, Mr. Wodehouse found the charge of intimidation proved and sentenced the prisoner to three months imprisonment, with hard

THE a.s. Ardgay, after her two year's rost on the sands at Cape Batangan, arrived in Hongkong to-day, looking nearly as trim and as sound as when she last left us: The vessel was got off on the 11th instant and anchored in a safe place till Sunday the 13th, the interval being employed transferring on board some of her gear that was lying on shore. She left on the 13th for Touron, under the command of Captain Thom, and arrived at that port the same day, There she had to lie for eleven days waiting coal, considerable difficulty being experienced in obtaining a sufficient quantity to take her here. Finally, after a stay of eleven days, enough Japanese and native coal was obtained for the purpose, and the Ardgay left on the 24th inst. for Hongkong. Considering the bad qualtity of her coal and her lightness, she made a fairly good passage. The vessel will have to go into dock to be surveyed, and until that time her exact condition cannot be ascertained. In outward appearance, she seems to have sustained little or no injury. Her engines ere almost as good as they were two years ago, care having been taken to keep them clean during the long sojourn at Cape Batangan. The vessel was also painted from time to time, so that, although somewhat dirty, there are few signs of wear and tear. Mr Chater and his engineer, Mr Johnston, must be congratulated on the final success of their enterprise. The Ardgay will likely be employed in the same trade as the
